Greed Of Legislators Seeking New Taxation Greatly Endangers Racing Prospect

FROM the beginning those who regard racing primarily as a sport and not as a profit-taking commercial enterprise have felt very dubious regarding its hook-up with politics.

That hook-up is now virtually complete and nation-wide. It is yet in its early stages. When it was still of the "small and early" variety, with only one or two states having Racing Commissions, there was more or less friction between the politicians and the affairs which they had taken under their benevolent wings. Now that it has attained the status above-described many wrinkles keep arising that require ironing out—and in that process some disturbing things bob up.

Every legislature is infested—that is to say, its personnel is—with legislators of doubtful qualifications for the high duties that they were elected (at least supposititiously) to perform. The larger the state the larger the legislature and the greater the opportunity for activities which are, to say the least, not motivated by a desire for the public good.

The three states in which racing has attained the greatest magnitude are, in the order named, New York, California and Illinois; with Maryland a close fourth. In 1940 New York tracks paid out $2,697,508 in stake and purse money; California, $2,378,752; Illinois, $1,659,485; Maryland, $1,455,540. These were the only ones which topped the million-dollar mark. Between them they gave $8,191,285, or over one half of the entire amount raced for in the

Marlene Top Jumper At Weld Stock Farm For Justin Yozell

BY ED EARLE

Good spring weather cantered over the Weld Stock Farm, Saturday, March 22, near Dover, Mass., for the Spring Hunter and Jumper Horse Show which initiated the blue-ribboned equine season for the benefit of the American Red Cross. More than 185 horses competed in the 17 events which carried on until late evening surcungled the dark blanket on a sparkling and successful show which brought some $60 to Arthur Henry's fine show ring.

The grand championship in the jumper division was captured by Justin Yozell's bay mare Marlene

Comedienne Wins Middleburg Bowl For 3rd Straight

Paul Mellon Captures Heavy-weight Title As Beatty Brown Scores 3rd Winning Ride

Fresh from two straight point-to-point triumphs recently in the heavy-weight division, T. Beatty Brown's mare Comedienne gave cards and spades to the season's leading light-weight cross country performers here last Saturday, March 19, and romped five miles and 23 fences through a blinding snowstorm to win the Middleburg Bowl in a manner duplicating her spectacular pace-making victory at Piedmont the previous week. Mr. Brown, who rode the daughter of The Clown-Apple Bud to her Redland triumph, over ice-encrusted going, early in the month and was again in the saddle when she set a new mark for Piedmont's 5 3-4 mile course on March 22, this time banged her home after once more setting a rattling pace to win easily by some 20 lengths from Duncan H. Read's game, little, gray gelding, Clifton's Gem, with Mr. W. P. Hulbert, Jr., up. Finishing 3rd and 4th respectively were Mr. Francis Greene on his recent Warrenton Bowl winner Red Flower and Mr. S. L. Pfefferkorn, Jr., on Hazel L. Welsh's Windsor Boy, who had so cleverly nosed out Crompton Smith's Mowgli to win the Rokeby Bowl the previous week.

With but five scratches from an original field of 22 and one added starter, the 17 that went postward promised a corking contest over the exact 5 mile circular course, on C. M. and H. M. Crouch's "Cherry Hill Farm" near Aldie, in the heart of the Middleburg hunting country.

The sudden disappointing turn to the day occurred but a few moments before post time when an unexpected

SIX FOOT LEAP OF AGED HOBO WINS AWARD

Final Day's Effort Places

Mr. Butz's Jumper Over Miss Cotter's Rocksie At Fort Myer

BY ANNE HAGNER

Saving his best jumping for last, Howard Butz' Hobo successfully took a 6-foot fence at the second day's performance of the Armed Services Horse Show, on Sunday, March 30, in the Fort Myer riding hall, and thus defeated Margaret Cotter's Rocksie for the $200 invitation high jumping championship.

The same fence had stopped Hobo on the opening night of the show, when Rocksie went clean at 6 feet to become highest favored contender for the final award, made on the basis of points earned during both days of competition.

Although Mr. Butz' aged bay gelding was in top form when he placed second to Rocksie Saturday night, most observers felt that his advancing years would tell on him if the fences went to the 6-foot mark Sunday. Contrary to expectations, Hobo came back in even better shape and, with Forman Erickson aboard, had no trouble with the big jump.

Rocksie, whose 6-foot efforts on Saturday were the fifth occasion in which he has been called upon to go so high, was eliminated early in the game Sunday when he lost all respect for a 4 1-2-foot fence and knocked it down on the first trial.

Mickey Magill, mounted on Mr. and Mrs. Leon Arnold's Arnold's Cateer, got the gray gelding in the ribbons in both days of the contest and thus tied with Rocksie for the reserve championship. Because Miss

"The same old story"—Rokeby Stables, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mellon, of Upperville, Va., won the Carolina Cup again this spring, this time with Memory Lane II and Mr. Sidney Watters, Jr., riding. So it has been for the past three consecutive years, with Mr. Watters, Jr., guiding Faction Fighter home to win in 1939 and 1940. As the records are further perused it comes to light that Drummore Lad, the best horse ever to bear the grey and yellow colors of the Mellons, won the Carolina Cup in 1935, and so it has come to pass that Rokeby Stables have had 4 winners in the 12 runnings of this celebrated timber feature of the Carolinas.

It was good racing that the 12th annual Carolina Cup card produced last Saturday, March 29, though the best contests of the day were not the features, but the supporting events over brush, hurdles and on the flat, when gentleman trainers succeeded in riding winners. Mr. A. A. "Sandy" Baldwin, who made a name for himself a fortnight previously at the Sandhills meeting, when he produced a fit one in his Captain Bill, to win the first running of the Carolina Maiden Serial Steeplechases, saddled himself a sharp one in the opening event of the Carolina Cup card, the Wateree, of 1 1/2 miles over hurdles. Mr. Baldwin got up himself and drove his hooks into Capt. Ewart Johnson's Congo Prince to win looking back. Congo Prince paid off to many at 20-1.

Mr. Baldwin deserves considerable

Stuart Janney Rides His Own Winton To Win Elkridge-Harford Hunt Race

The annual Elkridge-Harford Hunt Old Fashioned Point-to-Point was held last Saturday, March 29, on the farm of Edward S. Voss, M. F. H. of Elkridge-Harford, near Monkton, Md. A field of 8, representing 7 owners riding and Ven Hill, entry of Mr. Voss' with the well known gentleman rider, Mr. Hugh O'Donovan Jr. up, went to the post, with the winner turning up for the second straight year in Mr. Stuart Janney, Jr., riding Winton.

It was a grand race, over the cream of the Elkridge Harford country, with both the start and the finish on Mr. Voss' farm, and one turn over a 4 1/4 mile course, of 19 fences and 4 brooks, with the last fence 1-8 of a mile from the finish and at right angles to the finish stretch. The course was directionally flagged. Riders could really go as they pleased, picking their own panels. It was perfection, both over

Deep Run Races Close Entries On March 29th

Entries closed on Saturday, March 29, for the 14th annual Deep Run hunt races to be held at Curles Neck Farm, near Richmond, on Saturday, April 5, at 3 P. M.

According to Richard Wallach Jr., racing secretary, prospects for well-filled races look good.

Special interest is being shown by owners and trainers in the Malvern Hill, two miles over brush, for maidens by subscription. Nominations for this event also closed Saturday. Subscriptions are at $25 each, with $10 additional to start, all to the winner. A purse of $600 has been added, of which $150 to second, $75 to third and $50 to fourth. Non-Winners over brush on March 1 are eligible.

A new challenge cup is being placed in competition in the Deep Run Hunt Cup, three miles over post-and-rail. The cup has been donated by Sol. M. Schwarzschild. The former cup was retired by Paul Mellon in 1937 with Welbourne Jake. Victories by Drimore Lad in 1934 and 1935 supplied the other two legs.

The course is in excellent condition. A great quantity of additional snow fencing has been erected and every precaution taken for the safety of both spectators and horses.

An additional fifty feet has been added to the grandstand, which has been filled to capacity for the past three years.

My Lady's Manor Closes Entries On April 5th

Entries for the 33rd running of the annual My Lady's Manor Point-to-Point and the 20th running of the John Rush Street Memorial, supporting race, will close on mid-night of Saturday, April 5, with Leslie E. Keiffer, racing secretary, Monkton, Md. Run, as in recent previous years, over the estates of J. Myers Pearce and Mr. Keiffer, near Monkton, these two timber contests, of about 3 miles over natural country, will take place on Saturday April 12.

The first of the two races, My Lady's Manor Point-to-Point, for 4-year-olds and upward, ridden by amateurs, is carded for 3 p. m. Conditions are: 4-year-olds, 149 lbs; 5-year-olds, 157 lbs; older, 162 lbs. Non-winners over timber in 1940-41 allowed 3 lbs; 3-year-olds and upward which have never won a timber race allowed 5 lbs.

Bill Streett 'Chase At Piping Rock For United Hunts

An important stake event on the Piping Rock United Hunts Racing Assn. card scheduled for Saturday, June 14, is the inaugural running of the William B. Streett Steeplechase. This race, named for the late Bill Streett, well known gentleman rider and trainer, is expected to attract many of the season's top-flight horses. Lewis E. Waring, president of the United Hunts, is expected to release details and conditions shortly.

Bill Streett was known and loved by all who followed steeplechasing and racing, whether at the big tracks or at the hunt meetings. He rode the winner of veritably every outstanding hunt cup race, with the exception of the Maryland Hunt Cup, in which he either rode or trained a starter for at least 12 of his youthful 30 years. Some half a dozen times he had horses finish in the money in the Maryland, at least three times 2nd. It is but fitting that the United Hunts Assn. has chosen to name a 'chasing stake in his name, for a man who truly loved the thoroughbred, whether it was a hunter to carry him afield with hounds, for his favorite sport of all, or a timber, brush or flat stakes winner.

It will be a red letter day on the New York racing calendar when the United Hunts Assn. revives the past glories of another great era at the old Piping Rock race course in Locust Valley, L. I. To those familiar with the history of racing in New York, Piping Rock needs no introduction. It will be recalled how Piping Rock kept horse racing in the Empire State alive during the administration of Governor Hughes, when the Percy Gray law, permitting bookmaking was revoked and all the tracks were closed.

The United Hunts Assn. is sparing neither expense nor effort in restoring to Piping Rock a brand of racing in keeping with its past. In renewing the time honored Piping Rock Cup, a 2 mile 'chase for 4-year-olds and up, a special committee of the Piping Rock Club enthusiastically volunteered to raise a substantial sum of money for this purse.

The Piping Rock Cup made its debut at the Locust Valley course back in 1912 when James Park's Duke of Duluth romped to victory. After the 1916 renewal which was won by Morton L. Schwartz's M. J. Shannon, the race was abandoned until 1934 when the cup was again placed in competition at the Rockaway Hunt Club in Cedarhurst, L. I. The Cup was won outright in 1935 by J. W. Y. Martin's Luckite. Mr. Martin kindly returned the Cup for perpetual competition, and it was temporarily retired in 1936 after having been won at Rockaway by Louis E. Stoddard, Jr.'s Blackcock. Racing at this point for 4-year-olds and upward which have never won two races over a timber course, will complete the day's card. In this event, also for amateur riders, weights will be 160 lbs., winners over timber, 5 lbs extra.

was then discontinued whereupon the cup remained idle until only recently when it was returned by the Piping Rock Club to be again placed in perpetual competition.

The advisory race committee appointed by the Piping Rock Club includes William Woodward, current chairman of The Jockey Club, Howard W. Maxwell, Joseph E. Davis, G. H. Bostwick and Louis E. Stoddard, Jr.

Within a few weeks work will start on the erection of a pari-mutuel wagering facilities and a new grandstand.

48th RUNNING OF THE Maryland Hunt Cup Saturday, April 26, 1941

The Forty-Eighth Annual Race for the Maryland Hunt Cup and the First Race for the Challenge Cup presented in memory of the late Redmond C. Stewart, will be run on Saturday, April 26, 1941 at 4 P. M. under sanction of the Committee of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association. Weights: 4-year-olds 150 pounds; 5-year-olds 160 pounds; 6-year-olds and upward, 165 pounds. 4-year-olds which have never won a race over timber allowed 5 pounds; 5-year-olds and upward which have never won a race over timber 10 pounds; no sex or half-bred allowance; no allowance for riders and no other allowance. Owners acceptable to the Committee. Amateur riders holding certificates from the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association or those eligible for the same. Start and finish on the estate of Mr. J. W. Y. Martin, Worthington Valley. Same Course as in recent years. Distance four miles.

Conditions for the new Challenge Cup to be the same as for the old Challenge Cup. It will be held by the owner of the winning horse each year, and become the permanent possession of the owner winning the Maryland Hunt Cup three times, not necessarily with the same horse nor by successive wins.

ELKRIDGE—HARFORD HUNT CLUB

Monkton, Maryland. Merged 1934. Recognized 1934.

WYTHEMORE HOUNDS

Long Green Stock Farm, Gittings, Maryland. Established 1933. Registered 1940.

March 19, 1941

A great running fox, hard pressed by the Elkridge-Harford pack, showed an outstanding one hour and forty minute hunt, following the last Saturday meet of this season. As it was the first spring like afternoon Maryland had enjoyed for some time, Charles James must have been sunning himself in the Cockey swamp when hounds came suddenly upon him. Hounds opened with a roar of music when he jumped up in front of them and headed towards Mr. W. DeCoursey Wright's farm. Nine of us including the hunt staff, the major part of the field had pulled out before the swamp had been drawn, settled down to ride. Hounds were flying, as scent was breast high. They drove their pilot straight through the occasional small woods that lay between the large pasture fields intercepted by stiff but fair post and rail fences, across which he coursed.

From Mr. Wright's, he headed across Mr. Perlman's, through the 60 acre woods, along the edge of the distant verdant valley meadow, left handed over Mr. Riechert, right through mill swamp, then right again across Sir Ashley's, Mr. Edward Voss', Verdant Valley swamp, Mr. Nelson's, Mr. Wright's, over the old York road, Mr. Kieffer's, Mr. Myers Pearce's and into the Blue Mont covert. At this point, hounds were whipped off the line of their gallant pilot, as Blue Mont is a tremendous covert. The sun was setting and our hunters could hardly gallop.

Hounds had never checked but across an occasional plowed field their pace had slowed sufficiently to allow our fast tiring hunters brief "breathers." The going was very heavy from the recent thaw and towards the last part of the hunt, it had been necessary for some of us to pull our horses down to a trot before allowing them to negotiate the fences. Twenty couple of hounds were present when they were whipped off the line and they had run the entire line so closely packed that fifty yards had not separated the lead hound from the tail hound. The small band of us who had participated in the hunt, agreed it was one of the best this season.—Elizabeth Ober.

The first weeks of March were very disappointing: two snow storms, horrid wind and much rain prevented hounds from going out. However on Saturday, March 15th, the weather was clear and warm. The meet was scheduled for 1:30 at Chinquapin Chapel. The field was small, as so many followers were at the Pikeville Horse Show. Messers. Lawrence Naylor, Jr., McCord Solenberger, Norman Sipes, Jack Seymour were the only ones out.

Nine couple were cast in the covert south of the chapel, and within five minutes hounds were in full cry. Reynard circled his covert and went straight across Mr. Hockley's upper meadows. As he crossed Patterson Ave., Mr. Claggett Dorsey, who was on foot, viewed him away. True to type, this fox was very clever and went right into Mackubin's woods (the field unable to follow, as it is the one place that we haven't the permission to ride through). Making the best of it, we turned east, taking a chance that the fox would also turn in the same direction. He did, and gave the field a fast gallop and plenty of post and rails through Palmer's, back again to Mackbin's. This time the field went north and circling Mackbin's property, met hounds on top of the hill and the fox led us right back to his own covert, Chinquapin. I suppose he thought that was enough, so out maneuvered the hounds in some sly way so that they were unable to pick up the scent again.

Huntsman Bart Mueller collected hounds, turned to us and said, "I know where there is a fox just waiting for us." Call it premonition, but there was another fox north of Carroll Manor Road. Hounds were soon right on the line. The first season hounds out-doing the older ones in finding and sticking to their line. Sue in particular has been doing outstanding work this whole year. The fox turned his mask due west along the ridge and past the Carroll Manor School, crossed the road about 1-1/2 miles beyond. Hounds were quick to follow. Then south down the valley into the woods he turned, back across the Manor Road a little south of where he had crossed before. Once again Mr. Claggett Dorsey viewed as the fox crossed Knobel Corners and headed for Chinquapin, southeast

BRIDLESPUR HUNT

Huntleigh Village, St. Louis County, Missouri. Established 1927. Recognized 1929.

Due to bad weather and ground conditions the Bridlespur Hounds hunted very few times in January and February, but March was better.

On Saturday, March 8, 13 1-2 couples met at Mme. Defoe's at 10 A. M. It was a warm day with a light breeze. Huntsman Henry Rhode cast his hounds in the Woody Sister's covert with no luck. From there we drew Mr. Forhan's woods, Mrs. Boston's covert, Mr. Rauscher's woods and still no fox. We crossed the Baxter Road and drew the bluffs and Mr. Funsten's covert which had never been blank, and Pete Willis' big woods but all were blank. It was then a quarter of one and there was just one more chance back across the Baxter Road toward the Eberwein property. Hounds gave tongue immediately in an open field and were off in a northerly direction with good cry.

We ran out of our territory over gates through a strange farm yard and hounds were at fault where the fox apparently doubled back at the Superhighway. We cast back slowly along the power line to a high ridge where six couple were in full cry very close on. As we came over the crest of the hill the pack were marking him to ground.

It was four o'clock, our horses were tired, the going had been very soft, we too had had a full day, so thanking both foxes for two nice runs, we hacked back to our various destinations.—Peggy Darsie

Nantucket Harriers Hunt In New Jersey In Informal Day

On Horse And Foot Followers Enjoy Sport With Mrs. Trimpi's Pack

The enthusiastic master of the Nantucket Harriers, Mrs. W. W. Trimpi, brought her pack, eight and a half couple strong, over from their winter quarters on Mr. and Mrs. Trimpi's farm at Pluckemin, on Saturday the 22nd of March to hunt our country around New Vernon, New Jersey. By permission of the Spring Valley Hounds, the Bailey's Mill Beagles hunt this country. Game is Kansas Jacks and a very few European hare remaining from the days when the late Mr. Seth Thomas hunted his Spring Valley Harriers. The hunt was entirely informal.

until a whipper-in viewed the fox and hounds were put on. He took a big circle to Mr. Eberwein's woods and hounds were very close, but he slipped out of the woods heading south with hounds close on headed by Famous. They moved fast and the fox turned east at Mme. Defoe's and made for the Beagle Club. Hounds checked a minute but were on again immediately and the fox was viewed on a hill south of the Beagle Club. He was hard pressed and went to ground in a hole by the creek a mile south, where he was marked by the whole pack. It was an hour's fast run with one short check.—H. J. K., Jr.

SIX FOOT LEAP

Cotter's mount had jumped higher, however, the judge, Maj. Gen. Guy V. Henry, awarded him the ribbon.

In all three cases, the Armed Services event marked notable "firsts"—it was the first time that Hobo had ever been shown by Forman Erickson, who previously had schooled him only twice; it was the return to 6-foot competition for Rocksie, who has been in temporary retirement for more than a year while Miss Cotter recuperated from a series of operations; and it was the first ring appearance of Mickey Magill, young Suitland (Md.) rider, on the Arnold horses, formerly owned by U. S. Randle.

The performances of Arnold's Cateer were probably the most surprising of the show, for hitherto he has been a confirmed in-and-outer in the open jumping league and has often been shown more successfully in the hunter division. In the Fort Myer ring, however, he produced an amazing spring over his fences that got him into the ribbons at almost every attempt.

Hobo, too, was a surprise to the rail-birds, for the halfbred's age is variously estimated in the vicinity of 24 years, and he has been retired as often as an opera singer.

The conformation division was somewhat shy of entries because little stress was placed upon hunters in the prize list. However, Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Charles B. Lyman's smooth performing Maui Girl and Mrs. Altamus Whitney's attractive little hunter-hack, Cherry Bounce, split honors by taking a class apiece during each hunter session of the show, judged by Crompton Smith of Middleburg and Col. E. N. Hardy, U. S. A.

With Norman Haymaker up, Cherry Bounce won the road hacks event on the opening night, topping Patricia Henry on Gabby's Scamp. On Sunday afternoon, Margaret Cotter had the mount on Mrs. Whitney's gelding in the ladies' class and outperformed Maui Girl, with Mrs. Lyman aboard.

Maui Girl retaliated by triumphing in the working hunters' and the open hunters, both times defeating a fair field.

U. S., Canada, Mexico and Cuba during the year, this having been $15,-911,167.

As might be expected, the betting ran into astronomical figures. In New York it amounted to over $100,-000,000. In California to over $70,-000,000. In Illinois to over $45,000,-000. In Maryland to over $30,000,-000.

Thus in these four states alone over $250,000,000 was bet "on the ponies" the past year.

From this source vast taxation revenues are pouring into the state treasuries which hitherto were strangers to them.

Various methods of assessing these taxes have been adopted by various commonwealths.

In some there is merely a percentage collected of the total amount bet.

In others there is a flat daily license fee exacted for the privilege of operating.

In some there are both kinds of exaction.

There are also tax levies on all admission fees paid by the public; together with other forms of "putting on the screws" for the purpose of squeezing out that modicum—or rather, maximum—known as "all the traffic will bear."

Nothing is better known than that taxing bodies are never content with their collections but always casting about for new and more productive means of increasing their revenues. This has even gone so far that the goose that laid the golden eggs was bled to death. Also, bloody revolutions have taken place; of which the most famous in the history-books were those that occurred in America and in France, almost simultaneously, about 150 years ago.

After the manner of their kind, having struck pay dirt, rich beyond all reasonable expectations, in that of which the American race track is constructed, the legislators, as was bound to be the case, have become restless and ill at ease for fear that while the public is betting so furiously, they may be overlooking a few.

In consequence this past winter and present spring the news from the various state houses has been what one would infer. Every legislature into which the golden flood has been pouring is seeking to increase the flow. And some of the means for doing so that are now under consideration, with prospects of enactment into laws as no impossibility, are to say the least, disturbing to those who have the welfare of racing itself, as a great and at its best truly noble sport, at heart.

If some of the proposed amendments to present laws that are now "before the house" in both New York and Illinois are passed and become effective, the sequel will be sad to contemplate.

Those who from the first dreaded to have the turf become a political football will have seen their worst fears on the road to verification.

O'Moriarty Sets Southern Pines Best Team Pace

BY HOWARD F. BURNS

(Pinehurst Outlook)

Mrs. William J. Stratton of Princeton, N. J., and Southern Pines, N. C., riding her O'Moriarty, aged bay gelding, set the pace over a picturesque hunting course to capture the blue ribbon in the hunt teams, feature event, of the Southern Pines Hunter Trials, held on Saturday,

ELKRIDGE-HARFORD

Winton won by some 20 lengths, getting over the last in-and-out first where all the casualties of the day took place, and running uncontested over the last fence and through the stretch. Winton is a 7-year-old son of Belli-Casus—Rose Quartz, bequeathed to Mr. Janney Jr., by the late Mr. Jervis Spencer, winner of the Maryland Hunt Cup on 5 occasions. In winning the Elkridge-Harford race last Saturday, Winton duplicated his effort of the previous year and made it two in a row. Due to the death of Mr. Janney, Jr.'s father, Colonel Stuart Janney, Winton did not continue on in the racing season of 1940. This year, however, he is slated to run in The My Lady's Manor, The Grand National Point-to-Point and The Maryland, with his owner up.

The race was open to two weights, 165 for lightweights, which was won by Winton and 185 pounds for heavyweight, which was won by Mr. James Mc Henry riding his Party Lines, who finished 2nd to Winton and bested Mr. R. D. "Pete" Reid on his own Adagio at 165 pounds. Mr. Rieman McIntosh rode at 165 on his Jason to take 4th and his brother Mr. David McIntosh, rode at 185, on his *Dundillerick to take 5th.

Mr. Janney Jr., made most of the pace on Winton, who jumped well and made much time over his fences. Coming to the final in-and-out, after which there was but one fence before the stretch, Winton was on top by a neck, hardly more, some considered him head-and-head with Mr. Voss' *Ven Hill and Mr. O'Donovan Jr. *Ven Hill is a hunter of great class and cross-country ability and it is conceivable that he will run in the Belmont Memorial National Hunter Championship Steeplechase as the Elkridge-Harford entry next Saturday April 12. He was giving Winton 20 pounds coming to the last in-and-out, made a wild mistake and pecked over the out to come to his nose and knees and lose his rider, Winton and *Ven Hill were about 20 lengths on top at this juncture and the winner sustained this advantage to the finish.

Mr. Robert Fenwick riding his Sir Greygrass fell at the same "out", where also Mr. Redmond Stewart came down, after striking the "in" and breaking a rail, he turned upside down over the "out".

SUMMARIES

Elkridge-Harford Point-to-Point, for hunters and regular followers of recognized packs. About 4 1/2 miles, 19 fences, 4 brooks, about turning flags, once around. No time taken.
1. Winton, 165, Mr. Stuart Janney, Jr.
2. Party Lines, 185, Mr. James McHenry
3. Adagio, 165 Mr. P. D. Reid
Also ran: Jason, 165, Mr. Rieman McIntosh; Dundillerick, 185, Mr. David McIntosh. Fell: Mr. E. S. Voss' Ven Hill, 185, Mr. Hugh O'Donovan; Mr. Robert Fenwick's Sir Greygrass, 165, Mr. Redmond Stewart's Sir Greygrass, 165. Won by 20 lengths, place distance.

March 22. James Boyd, Jr., on Persimmon, and Billy Tate of Pinehurst, on his father's Pinehurst Stable Timber Rider made up the team.

Placing 2nd in the hunt teams was Mrs. W. O. Moss of Mile-Away-Stables, Southern Pines, on Dark Victory; Miss Kathleen Tuke on Smokey, owned by Mrs. G. Kenneth Ellis of Hot Springs, Va., and Johnny Vass on Miramar, also a Mile-Away Stable entry. The 3rd ribbon was awarded to Mrs. Fred Wilmshurst of Rumson, N. J., on Beau Joe; Corbett Alexander of Pinehurst, on Suremaine and Dan Boyd, on Rabbit, an entry from the stables of James Boyd, M. F. H.

These 4th Annual Hunter Trials, under the management of James Boyd, M. F. H., and author, for the benefit of the Southern Pines Public Library, were attended by several hundred of the Southern Pines-Pinehurst winter colonists. The trials opened with the parade of the Moore County Hounds with Jackson H. Boyd, M. F. H., and Honorary-Whippers-in William J. Stratton, Almet Jenks and W. O. Moss.

Mrs. W. O. Moss' Mile-Away-Stables Gun Cotton won the first in the middle and heavyweight, with Mrs. Moss up. Mr. Tate, Jr., rode his Timber Rider to score in the open hunters and Mrs. Moss was up again to take the blue in the lightweight working hunters with Dark Victory. Mrs. William J. Kennedy's Batchelor Dick, with the capable Mickey Walsh, trainer-rider, up, won the event for non-owners, in which some of the most spectacular riding was exhibited.

The trials were judged by Louis E. Duffey of Middleburg, one of the country's outstanding horsemen and trainers.

Notes From Great Britain

BY J. FAIRFAX-BLAKEBOROUGH

Time Was When Horses Were Trained On Eggs, Bread And Wine By Owners At Home

There is an old and very true saying "half the goodness of a horse goes in at his mouth". The inference is that breeding, conformation, stamina, and all the care of an expert trainer and capable jockey, are of no avail unless a horse has good food in his manger and hay rack. At the present time trainers are naturally gravely concerned at the horse rationing order. On the other hand those opposed to racing are exulting over it, and exploiting to the full their arguments that oats should be used to feed hens and pigs, not race horses. That bloodstock is just as much a national asset as poultry or pork does not enter into their calculations. Their avowed aim is to put an end to sport, not only in wartime, but permanently; hence their present opportunist stab in the back.

As a matter of fact matters have not reached such a pass that it is necessary to conserve every oat and every stone of hay. If the position was sufficiently serious to demand such economy, owners of race horses and breeding studs would be the first to either destroy their equine stock, or put it on such short commons that racing would be out of the question and mares and their foals would both be detrimentally affected.

I was asked the other day whether it was true that, prior to the days of public trainers (when owners personally prepared their horses at home for Turf events which often called upon animals to gallop 16 miles in one afternoon), owners fed their horses on bread, wine and eggs. All these entered into the early dietary of race horses. Gervase Markham (a Nottinghamshire squire who died 1636) was one of the first to give detailed instructions on feeding "running horses", and he advised that bread should be made for them thus:

"Two pecks of beans and with fine wheat make it up to a bushel. Let them be ground together and dressed exceeding fine, so that there be hardly a husk or a bran to be seen; then with a like quantity of yeast as before, mingle the mead and add water to it, so much as is just sufficient to make it stick close together. When it is well kneaded up you must bake it. After which, it having stood about three days, or somewhat more, pare away the crust and give it to your horse, three slices crumbled amongst a quart of fine dressed oats and a quart of split beans. . . . Take a pint of muscadine and the whites of ten eggs and steep his oats, but you need not do this above four times a week."

I have known trainers in recent times (though not since the war!) give their horses eggs and new milk and one old trainer friend of mine often used to say "I'd give my horses golden sovereigns to eat if it would make them win races."

"Horses don't get any faster or better on their legs as they get older," remarked a well-known trainer to me the other day. One of these horses is game old Right 'Un. He's now eleven years old and again fell in a 'chase at Wetherby. Time was when he was one of the safest of conveyances over a country but either his legs, courage or eyes are not what they were and I fear he must be counted a light of other days. Tommy Rimell, who rode the old fellow, was no worse for the fall and rode the winner of the final event on the Wetherby card.

Speaking of accidents to jockeys, Sean Magee had an unpleasant experience at Plumpton the other day when a motorist drove across the course as the runners in a 'chase were approaching. Magee on Roman Chief collided with the car at such force that it was knocked over, the horse broke a leg and had to be destroyed, and the jockey was catapulted into the air, fortunately with no serious results. He had further mounts during the afternoon. Happily accidents caused by public intrusions on race tracks are now rare. It used to be otherwise when mounted followers were allowed to gallop alongside the runners, when portions only of courses were fenced off (merely by temporary ropes) and when stray dogs rushed in between horses's legs. John Osborne, amongst other jockeys, had one bad fall owing to a policeman getting in the way. During the Suffragette agitation there were similar spills, an historic instance being in the 1913 Derby, when Herbert Jones (who rode the King's horse Ammer) was brought down, rendered unconscious and badly bruised. The silly woman lost her life. On the old Beverley race course in the middle of last century there was a notice "Any person found on the track after the bell for the start has been rung will be arrested." Elsewhere there were warnings about mounted spectators joining in races. It is on record that on one occasion 1000 sportsmen on horseback attended Newmarket Races and that at Epsom a mounted spectator, who interfered with the Derby field, was chased down the course by the starter and others, dragged from the saddle and horse-whipped. Exactly two hundred years ago the following instructions were issued at Newmarket:

"It is usual to have two ropes across the course, one about the distance Post, and the other beyond the Winning Post, to prevent horsemen from riding on that part of the running ground. The men who have the care of them should be particularly cautioned to be on the alert when jockeys are mounted, and to clear the rope away in time for them to canter."

Going back further still we read that at Newmarket during the reign of Charles II, when the runners approached the place at which his Majesty was located, some of the Royal party joined in the race "at the utmost speed, scarcely inferior to that of the racehorses."

More girls are being employed in racing stables, some of them are riding work and we have recently seen horses being led round parade rings by these feminine stable 'lads'. I asked one famous trainer, who has found himself compelled to replace with girls his called-up apprentices, how the innovation was working. His reply was interesting:

"The girls I have are keen on their job and don't need the supervision many lads do. Some lads spend half their time watching for me or my head lad coming round, and only then lay into their horse with their whips. There's none of this dodging with the girls I've got, and one or two of them ride as good a gallop as any of the lads. They are quieter in the stables with two-year-olds than the average boy and have better hands. I'm quite certain my two-year olds will have better mouths, better manners, better tempers, and more confidence than if they had been 'done' and ridden by lads."

Then he added:

"I wish it was possible to get permission to ride the two-year-olds in their races. I'm quite certain they'd make a better show than many of the weak little boys we will see riding in Nurseries during the coming season."

March will see the end of a fox-hunting season which has been carried on in most countries in a half-hearted sort of way. It was John Jorrocks who said "Summer is the season of our misery," and went on:

"I know no more melancholic ceremony than taking the string out of one's hat at the end of the season, folding up and putting away the old red rag,—a rag unlike all other rags, the dearer and more valuable the older and more worthless it becomes."

OVER THE LAST FENCE TO ROKEBY STABLES' THIRD STRAIGHT CAROLINA CUP

*MEMORY LANE II is pictured in effortless form over the last and 16th of the Carolina Cup 3 miles. Jockey Gibson has driven *KILLMALOCK up this close at the last fence, where he hit behind and lost valuable ground which could not be made up through the 150 yard stretch. The final verdict was almost a full 3 lengths. The time of 5:55 was 14 seconds off the record. Following LONGITUDE's refusal, at the end of the 1st mile, the last two miles were run slower.

BROWN AGAIN STANDS OUT ON SNOW WHITENED LANDSCAPE IN MIDDLEBURG BOWL

T. Beatty Brown, who twice before rode winners in the snow this season in old-fashioned point-to-point racing, when he won the Redland Bowl and the heavyweight race at Redlands, galloped in by 20 lengths to win the Middleburg Bowl last Saturday. An unexpected and sudden blinding snow storm came up on Saturday, as 17 started out over the rigorous 5 mile Middleburg course. Above are pictured left to right: Mr. Paul Mellon on STORMY WEATHER (winner of the heavyweight trophy); Mr. Mansfield Hughes on FIELD GLASS; Miss Judy Johnston on LEAP YEAR; Mr. Brown on his COMMEIDIENNE winner and Mr. Robert Young on SELFISH GAIN. Pace makers at this first fence, Mrs. M. E. Whitney's SKY PAINTER and AIRY SPIRIT with Mr. Winston Frost and Mr. Arnold Scruton riding, had already preceded.

Hounds met at the stable at Redgate at two thirty. Mr. and Mrs. Manning Jacob, our hosts, and a few friends on horse and foot, set off across the rolling Redgate fields in the wake of the fine looking pack of 16 hounds. The day was warm and the ground had thawed for a couple of inches. The going for the smooth shod horses of the staff and most of the Field was not nearly as good as for the three or four of us on foot who looked with misgivings at the size of the harriers and thought of the 13" Beagles we were accustomed to follow. The misgivings were born out, for those harriers really hustle a jack and one on foot in heavy going, has his work cut out for him to see much.

A hundred yards across the first field a young jack was started by a member of the Field who was far out to one side and at his cry the pack wheeled and caught sight of her in full flight down wind. There was a sight chase for half a mile with the jack evidently surprised at the astounding increase in speed of her pursuers since she last eluded them and for another half mile she led the pack only by as many yards as there were hounds. Making a large circle she slipped into the woods north of the house at Redgate and hounds could do nothing with her in the three or four inches of icy snow that still covered the ground in covert.

Mrs. Trimpi then drew north through the orchard and a second jack was started, setting a fast pace toward Marcy Dodge's polo field. Here she made a turn and gave hounds a hard time in the slush on the woods roads, finally working her way back to Redgate stables where she was lost. Another draw down over the south field produced another jack and as she went over the hill to the east a fourth got up running westward. Hounds were below the crest of the hill and did not view her, sticking to the line of their quarry. Scent was good in the open but the snow in covert killed it and another turn through the woods made good her escape. Hounds were settling now and working well. Their performance was particularly good when it is remembered that Mrs. Trimpi cannot hunt in her country around Pluckemin and the pack has had virtually no hunting since September when they left Nantucket.

It was now four o'clock. We drew south and the Farm Barn fields failed to produce a hare. Hounds were then cast through Mr. Bangs, across the brook into Mr. Colgate's. The broodmare pasture was drawn blank. At the top of Colgate's hill a big jack went away, eluding hounds on the dirt road to the south. A cast up into Mr. Bayne's north field put her up again and she drove for the covert on Colgate's hill, through that with a check on the snow and hounds ran her with a great cry to the tar road at Mr. Cutler's gate. It was then a little past five and in view of the going all decided they had had enough and a grand day.

Mrs. Trimpi is to be congratulated on the appearance, condition and hunting ability of her good looking pack. She showed good sport under trying conditions and we hope she will often come back to hunt our country.—R. R.

Foxhunting Derives Appeal From Fundamentals

General Scheme Of Things Provides Natural Setting For The Chase

(Editor's Note: Some years ago a noted sportsman, nationally known in foxhunting circles, and well known judge of thoroughbred hunters wrote the following. He brings out the thought that there are many strong, spiritual reasons why foxhunting has its great appeal.)

The healthiest thing a man can realize when he first goes in for the sport of foxhunting is that no matter who he is or what he does he is only a very small part of the beautifully ordered scheme of things. To me riding to foxhounds brings this out more clearly than anything I happen to know and hence I think I deduce its special appeal to a man.

First of all take the setting of the foxhunting stage as good farming country. A farm shows the wonderful working of nature in a way that especially appeals to me. First its beauty, woods, fields, streams, careful cultivation and a healthy calm living. Not much money but compensations for this shortage money can not buy.

Take the scheme of economy on the farm. Dividends from one seed of wheat, or corn, or barley, or oats or grass exceed any regular dividends known. The big fertilizer companies after years of experimenting have developed balanced fertilizers, nitrate, phosphoric acid and potash. What has Nature done from the beginning? Made horse manure high in nitrate; cow manure high in phosphoric acid; pig manure high in potash and hen manure high in lime. A cow eats long grass, a horse eats short grass, a sheep eats what nothing else will eat, shortest grass, poorest hay and bushes. A pig roots things over so they'll rot properly, picks up the undigested grains in manure, while hens run around and scratch and eat all the seeds everybody drops.

This is the stage the fox runs over but he, besides doing lots of good in keeping down the supply of mice and beetles, is a bit of a thief and a night prowler, and arouses the idea of chasing and killing in a hound.

Giving tongue by a hound is nothing but the outbreak of emotion on smelling the thief. So the chase begins. It goes faster than a man can go on his own feet, but he likes the fun of the chase and is made to, because fun is a natural blessing, and he is put here to enjoy as well as work. So he gets on a horse, it better be a good one with speed, stamina and courage to face obstacles. He likes to follow his friends the hounds. So we see a man, the sporting thief in close association with his closest animal friends, horse and hound, in which he deals with those qualities he admires most in himself, strength, stamina and courage in the hound, honesty and truth to a line of action, led on by right and controlled emotions.

From any point of view I think these are sound reasons for the long lasting popularity of the old chorus, "Let's all go a hunting today," and I salute the departing hunting season with the foregoing thoughts.

Kansas Jackrabbits Provide Good Sport For Trewern Pack

Some Notes From The Diary Of David B. Sharp, Jr., M. B. Show Drive Of 13 Inch Beagles

It occurred to me that your readers might be interested in hearing of the sport that imported Kansas Jackrabbits, many of them now with us for several years, are providing for our 13 inch beagles.

Since December 1, we have had some very good points and long runs with very little trouble with hares running the roads—a habit for which they are justly famous.—We don't like to put hare out during the season so cannot kill as many as we would like. Therefore we frequently whip hounds off to save a good hare for another day's sport.

In looking over our hunt diary for the winter months I find the following remarks:

"December 1. One hour and 7 minutes to a kill in the open, making a very good point for a fox hunt. Forty five in field of which 15 were in at the kill. Pack 10-½ couples."

"December 8. Morning. One hour and 25 minutes, when we whipped off to save a noble hare. Afternoon. Twenty minutes to a loss on hard road then a very fast 40 minutes when we saved a completely beaten hare by whipping off. Ninety five in field. Pack, 13 couples."

"December 22. Marked hare to ground in plain sight of the field in 45 minutes. This is only the fourth time in 11 years hunting we have known a hare to go to ground. Field 70. Pack 11 couples."

"December 29. Forty two minutes to a kill in the open. Pack ran beautifully together and were all in at the kill. Only a handful of the field got the trip. Pack 10-½ couples. Field 40."

"January 5. Impossible conditions, everything frozen tight. Forty five minutes to a loss then a short burst at dusk. Field 40. Pack 10-½ couples."

"January 12. One hour and 10 minutes until we called it a day at a check. Good, slow, steady hunt on dry, frozen ground. Very cold and high wind. Pack 14, couples. Field 50."

"January 19. One hour and 15 minutes, until we whipped off to save a very tired but game hare. Pack 1-½ couples. Field over 60."

January 26. Ice and frozen ground and running into a farmer's pack spoiled the day. Only ½ hour slow hunt. Pack 11 couples. Field 25."

"February 2. Heavy snow on ground. Had nice slow hunt lasting 1 hour and 15 minutes. Whipped off at dusk. Pack 13 couples. Field 28."

"February 9. A short fast burst to a loss on hard road, then 1 hour and 10 minutes until we whipped off at dusk, as a fox crossed the hare line. Three hare viewed today. Pack 14 couples. Field about 70."

"February 16. A very fast straight away, good enough for any fox hunt. No one able to stay with hounds. Forgot to time it. Hare finally entered fox covert and we had to stop hounds. Hard 25 minutes and at 5 P. M. so fast only hunt staff saw it at all. Whipped off at dusk. Pack 11-½ couples. Field 40."

"February 22. Washington's Birthday. A bye day. Had 1 hour and 30 minutes. Only hunt staff out. Pack 15 couples."

"February 23. Longest run this season. Stopped hounds at dusk after 1 hour and 50 minutes. Pack 12-½ couples, including two six month old

AN OLD BUSINESS PRINCIPLE

A good friend of The Chronicle, Challenger, writing in the Daily Racing Form in his column "Sires and Dams" proceeds to pan us rather unmercifully for an article sent us by a knowledgeable horseman on the problem of the lack of good horses for the growing number of tracks.

Says Challenger, "The trouble with his article is that it is so shallow and based on such false premises that it merely confuses the situation in which we believe he has little actual knowledge."

Our good friend, the turf scribe, is certainly asking for something, and it is apparently not more knowledge, for from his lofty eminence he apparently has all the answers, in spite of the fact that he does not suggest one in his dressing he gives our own writer for what appeared to us a rather sensible suggestion.

In brief the racing problem that the scribes are concerned with is the growing number of tracks and the problem of maintaining good racing. Challenger commences his article in the Racing Form calling the article in The Chronicle, "One of the most contradictory articles that has ever come to our attention." Such a statement is rather a broad one for a turf writer with the experience of Challenger, and is worthy of comment. What Challenger objects to is that our writer calls attention to the fact that turf writers are decrying the lack of good horses while breeders are saying that there is an over-production and that both groups have grounds for their assumptions. If there were not two points of view, there could hardly be a problem, and to our view the fact that there is something to say on both sides of the question only provides the metes and bounds for the argument.

The real cause of Challenger's dissatisfaction, however, is the simplicity of The Chronicle article, which had the temerity to suggest that before the over-production of poor horses can be checked, a market for the undesirables must be found so as to make room for the good ones. The method is a practical application of an old business principle. To sell more goods you must find more people to sell to. To find a broader market, base your sales on a broader base, in other words find more people interested in the thoroughbred horse.

The thoroughbred horse is the ideal ride. Its gaits are more comfortable, its appearance better, its performance more brilliant than the average hack. Our writer suggests that as there are too many poor horses on the track, sell them away from the track by appealing to the great field of horsemen in no way connected with racing, the hunting men, the show owners, the riding stable owners, the private individuals who enjoy riding for riding's sake. With reasonable detail The Chronicle writer then suggests that this field can be tapped through a broader advertising policy of the sales of yearling stock and racing stock in training, together with carefully prepared publicity keyed to interest the thousands of horse lovers who never go near sales on the tracks or yearling sales mainly because they do not realize that often unusual bargains are there for the asking.

There may be 50,000 horse lovers in the country who can afford to own and ride a horse and will pay up to $500 for their recreation. On the other hand there are in comparison fewer owners of race horses. Rather than attempting to sell the poor race horses by advertising sales to other race horse owners who would but keep the poor horses on the track, every possible step should be made to sell them away from the track.

Granted the plan is simple, but it does attack the problem about as well as does our good friend Challenger himself who concludes his article in which he has devoted so much space to our iniquities with the rather comfortable thought that, "About all the American turf can do is proceed along the lines of least resistance and hope for the later production of enough good horses to keep the sport on a high plane."

After becoming rather down in the mouth with two columns upon the inadequacy of The Chronicle's article, it cheered us a bit to make a comparison with the final erudite lines of least resistance, but perhaps we just don't know.

Top Jumpers Vie In Middleburg's Hunt Meeting

The 21st Annual Middleburg Hunt Race Meeting, carding 6 races, over brush, hurdle and timber and one flat race, is slated to be the best in the many years history. To be held Saturday, April 12, it will be run over the beautiful "Glenwood Park Course".

America's outstanding timber horses will meet in the $1,000 Middleburg Cup Steeplechase, the first 4 mile contest of the year, with many preparing for the Maryland Hunt Cup. In the co-feature of the day, The Raymond Belmont Memorial National Hunter Championship Steeplechase, America's top-flight hunting-hunters will go afield with their first flight riders to contend for the $1,000 Hunt Panelling Fund Benefit Purse.

Twenty-one entries are now in the hands of Daniel C. Sands, Racing Secretary for the Belmont National Hunter Championship Steeplechase, with at least five more Recognized Hunts to name horses for subscriptions taken out. Edward S. Voss, M. F. H., of Elkridge-Harford, (Md.), is expected to start his *Ven Hill, an outstanding weight carrier thoroughly capable of carrying the 185 pounds called for in the race, and the well known gentleman rider Mr. Hugh O'Donovan, Jr., is expected to be up.

Other entries for the Raymond Belmont Memorial include Warren Hunt's Sir Romeo and Slim Hope; Old Dominion Hunt's Sky Knees; Orange County Hunt's Longitude and Selfish Gain; Middleburg's Hunt's Big Charley, Clifton's Gem Sumarius, Valor King and Mowgli; Farmington Hunt's *Killmallock; Piedmont Hunt's Airy Spirit, Sky Painter and Comedienne; Casanova Hunt's Ability; and Bath County Hunt's Get Out. All of the above hunts are located in Virginia.

The Sewickley Hunt, (Pa.) has entered its top hunter Manarue, considered the best hunter in Western Pennsylvania, when afield with hounds on good runs.

From Maryland will come Windsor Boy, Port Law and Play Pal, entered in the name of the Redland Hunt, and well known point-to-point horses.

The Princess Anne Hunt, (Va.) is expected to start Mrs. George Watts Hill's Gulfelano, with Mr. Dicky Kelly riding.

Other hunts which have taken out subscriptions and have until Saturday, April 5 to name their starters are: Aiken Drag Hounds (S. C.); Keswick Hunt (Va.); Fairfield and Westchester Hunt (Conn.); (this hunt is expected to start its great Detonator with its Honorary-Whipper-in Mr. Rodney Waterman III riding); Chestnut Ridge Hunt (Pa.); Frankstown Hunt (Pa.); Pickering Hunt (Pa.) (this hunt intends to start Rockland, a timber starter at the Deep Run meeting this Saturday); and the Loudoun Hunt (Va.).

The Middleburg Cup Steeplechase will have the top timber horses of 1940 competing, when Christopher

M. Greer, Jr.'s Houseman, William J. Clothier's Henchman, Mrs. Frank M. Gould's Holdforth; Paul G. Daly's Mansfield Park; and Rokeby Stables' *Memory Lane II, recent winner of The Carolina Cup, (S. C.); and others meet up for this great 4 miles over timber. Other starters will be Bliss Flaccus' Greek Idol, of Sharpsburg, Pa., in the training of W. Burling Cocks; and Mrs. Laurens M. Hamilton's Music Mountain, under the handling of the well known gentleman rider John S. Harrison. At least 8 are expected to go postward in this rich timber classic.

It may be recalled that Henchman was the leading money winner over timber in 1940, the most sensational front runner seen over post-and-rail in many a year. Henchman, a young horse, won three timber contests in a row last fall, proving thoroughly capable of handling the challenges of older and more experienced horses.

The Raymond Belmont Memorial National Hunter Championship Steeplechase will be a veritable championship for the old-fashioned point-to-point winners entered in the race. Comedienne, owned and ridden by T. Beatty Brown, of Upperville, Va., has won outstanding recognition in three straight triumphs in Maryland and Virginia fields. Clifton's Gem, owned by Duncan Read, of New York and Middleburg, Va., has his 1940 reputation at stake of winning the coveted Piedmont Rokeby Bowl in Virginia and the Foxhunters Challenge Plate in Maryland. He has finished in the money in all his starts this year. Crompton Smith's Mowgli, of Mr. Smith's Middleburg stables, has the Redland Bowl back of him this year, having won this in a 10 inch snow, and was just beaten out for the Piedmont Rokeby Bowl Point-to-point by Redland Hunt's Windsor Boy, winner, and also a talented cross-country horse yet to be named for the championship of championships race.

The final flat race of the day, to be run following the two post-and-rail races, the two brush events, (which will bring out many horses from Southern training in the Carolinas), and the hurdle affair, will be open to both amateurs and professionals. The entry blanks recently mailed stated this race was open to amateurs. Mr. Sands has announced this correction, which will have strong bearing on a number of entries slated to start over the beautiful 11-year-old turf of "Glenwood Park Course", for a mile and one eighth.

Redland's Races

Arlington, Va.

Dear Sir:

I read with pleasure your comment, re Redland Point-to-Point, that had all contestants been true horse lovers there would have been no racing at all. Capt. Wagstaff, who patrolled on foot, as did I, said that his superior officer said to him: "You can go out there yourself but you can't take any Government horse out on a day like this and you can't take any Government van."

I notice that you always refer to Piedmont Hunt's huntsman as "Hunting Atwill". Although this is a very picturesque name for a huntsman, I believe his real name is Hunton Atwell.

The Chronicle was not fortunate enough to have obtained a catalogue of the show, so cannot enumerate the splendid list of entries in the steeplechase type class, which undoubtedly had a fine field of potential champions over brush as well as those who were, respectively the champion brush horse of 1940 and 1938. Mr. Bostwick, who took part in the show, riding his Castle Irwell, former Aintree Grand National campaigner, to the reserve championship, won the best steeplechase type class, with some justification, with his great Cottesmore "the horse of the year over jumps" in 1940. Cottesmore was placed over Thomas Hitchcock Sr's Annibal, champion 'chaser of 1938, while E. B. Schley's Chaloner was considered the third best. With some 90 'chasers wintering in Aiken, in the hands of the country's leading trainers, this class was presumably the best filled event.

Miss Bruner Hunneman, of Radnor Hunt, (Pa.) rode her Blue Zip to awards, taking the lightweight hunters and placing 2nd in the ladies'. Miss Virginia Davis, sister-in-law of the well known 'chasing trainer J. "Barney" Balding had her Grey Fox going well, to lead a place winning trio in the hunt teams and take other awards, as did Mrs. William Wood on her Miss Quick and Mrs. Joseph Wood on her High Time.

WAR, AS SKETCHED IN HIS PADDOCK BY JAMES REYNOLDS

NEW U. S. REMOUNT PURCHASE

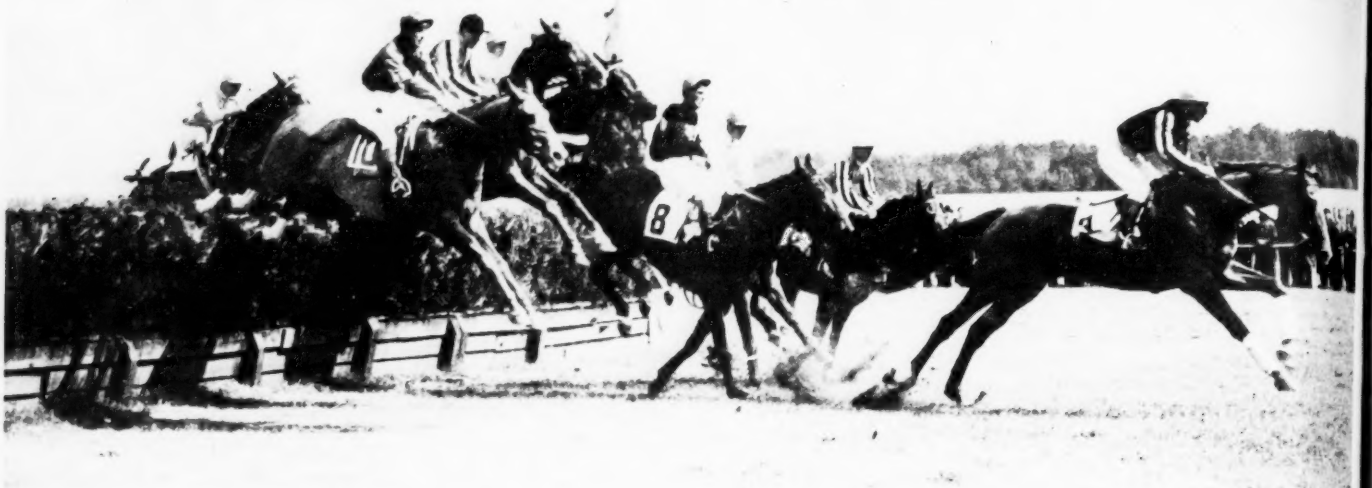

The above water color sketch of Victor McLaglen's stallion WAR was made by the Irish artist, James Reynolds, on a recent visit to Balfe Ranch, near Fresno, California, where the 12-year-old son of MAN o'WAR-MILKY WAY, by *STAR SHOOT holds court. Alone in his paddock, with no one near but the artist, WAR posed in his own characteristic manner, hence the freedom of feeling. Mr. Reynolds, a great admirer of MAN o'WAR and his get, has also painted his famous sons BATTLESHIP and BLOCKADE. See his letter to the editor elsewhere in this issue.

*MORNING STAR, was recently imported from England at the request of Col. E. N. Hardy, chief of the Remount Service, by A. Mackay Smith of White Post, Va. *MORNING STAR is six years old. He was undoubtedly the leading Cleveland Bay stallion in England as he won the King George V Challenge Cup for the best male Cleveland Bay four years in succession and was never defeated in the show ring. It is understood that the Remount Service will place the horse this season with the Genesee Valley Breeders Association in western New York State. Last year the Association leased from Mr. Mackay Smith the young horse *FRYUP KING who made an excellent impression. He will be bred to small thoroughbred and near thoroughbred mares to get heavyweight hunters.

CAROLINA CUP MEETING HAS RINGING CONTESTS, OVER BRUSH, HURDLES AND ON FLAT

*CLOVISSE, a French subscription horse, won the Carolina Serial Steeplechase in effortless fashion, running in the name of Mrs. Raymond G. Woolfe. Trained by Mr. Woolfe, he actually is owned by the late Wilbur B. Ruthrauff, whose faith in the 8-year-old gelding was substantiated as he galloped a good field into submission. Jockey J. McGovern is pictured up, making the pace throughout, #4. Others following from right to left are: John Hay Whitney's SCOTCH TAR, M. Mergler; Mrs. Esther du Pont Weir's *HIMMEL, J. Magee; E. B. Schley's *FREDERIC II, #8, J. Penrod; F. A. Clark's GALWAY BLAZER, F. Bellhouse (extreme right at top of fence); Mrs. Pietro Crespi's SECRET CALL, L. Gibson; A. A. Baldwin's CAPTAIN BILL, #10, Mr. Baldwin, owner-trainer up and Mr. Clark's TARA'S HARP, J. Rich.

WICKED PACE IN CAMDEN PLATE

Jockey J. Magee shot Mr. Brady's grey BOLD STROKE to the top at the outset of the mile on the flat for the Camden Plate and turned back Mr. George H. "Pete" Bostwick's heady challenge on his *KING JOHN II in the stretch. Pictured at the finish, back of BOLD STROKE is the entire field: *KING JOHN II (blaze face); Thomas Leiter's LEW PARK, timber prospect, H. Harris; Herbert A. Dunn's EPINDEL, J. MR. BOSTWICK SCORES AGAIN IN BARON DE KALB OVER HURDLES AT CAMDEN

For the third straight year Mr. George H. Bostwick has carried away the Baron De Kalb plate in winning the 1-1/2 mile hurdle event at the Carolina Cup Meeting. Here he is on his wife's ARMS OF WAR, a 3-year-old son of *QUATRE BRAS II, #9, winning by a length, after coming in the stretch to do away with F. A. Clark's ROGER O'CAHAN, F. Bellhouse up, who blocks out of view Richard K. Mellon's *DISPENSER and J. Magee who finished 3rd. Mr. Whitney's BUTTON BUTTON, with 160 was driven to 4th by P. McKenna, beating Mrs. Clark's highly regarded *THE BEAK, 140, with S. O'Neill. G. C. Tuke's KING COB, S. Riles (with breast plate) was 6th.

Headrock Champion At Univ. Of Md. For Fenton Fadeley

Fenton M. Fadeley's well-mannered mare, Headrock, ridden by his son, Mercer Fadeley, followed in the steps of Lacquer Lady, her late stablemate, when she was awarded the championship at the annual University of Maryland Horse Show last Saturday, March 22, for it was at this same show that Lacquer Lady, who later became one of the outstanding performers at Maryland, District and Virginia shows, won her first championship.

Another notable performer, who has been winning open jumper laurels at local exhibitions for the past several years, is Lt. Fred J. Hughes, Jr.'s personable little stallion, Black Caddy. At Maryland, Saturday, the popular black son of Tea Caddy added further to his conquests by annexing blues in both hunter and jumper divisions and topped off the day with the reserve championship.

Following their triumph in the junior horsemanship event, Headrock and her capable, young rider, Mercer Fadeley, went on to win the open jumpers' sweepstake, in addition to a second in the knock-down-and-out, a second in the student horsemanship and a third in the handy hunters.

It was in the knock-down-and-out that Black Caddy, with Miss Lisbeth Steig in the saddle, scored a brilliant triumph over the eventual champion, after these two had been called on for several jump-offs.

Mrs. Donald Bradley's 5-year-old Grand Time mare Best Time won both hack events, being placed over such competitors as Mrs. Lee Counselman's Kristi, a son of Black Caddy, Charles E. Fletcher's Nanette, U. S. Randle's Gee Ray Bee and others.

Dean Rathbun's well-mannered, little performer Miss Victorian walked away with the pony events, getting first in the class for pony hacks and the pony jumping.

Foxiana Triumphs In Tryon Trials For Austin Brown

The Tryon Daily Bulletin of Tryon, N. C., reports that Austin Brown, son of Carter Brown, rode his own Foxiana to win the featured hunter trial event for amateurs in Tryon N. C. Young Mr. Brown has hunted this mare steadily through the season with Tryon Hounds, and may be recalled as one going "great guns" when The Chronicle had the pleasure of visiting this pack recently.

Foxiana bested Booter, also from the Galax Stables, ridden by Pat Ferneding.

In the event for professionals up, Huntsman Arthur Reynolds of Tryon Hounds, was up on his own Last Wreath, a mare he has hunted through the season and gave Louis Duffey an excellent day's sport afield when he visited this pack with The Chronicle last month. Huntsman Reynolds got a very smooth performance from his mare and bested a smooth conformation type in Miss Polly Mahler's General Alarm, ridden by George Webster.

"Perfect weather, right out of the Thermal Belt, greeted spectators from nearly every state in the Union," read the Bulletin. "The event was judged by Jack Carpenter, of Keswick, Va., and directed by Mrs. Edward H. Bennett, of Lake Forest, Ill., and Mrs. Sam Abernethy, of Bronxville, N. Y., who was up in the amateur class, when she rode Mrs. James R. Getz's Plow Boy."

Capt. Rufus Zogbaum, U. S. N. retired was starter; George G. Vanderhoef, Jr., of Greenwich, Conn., and Walter C. Hill of Saginaw, Mich., were patrol judges. Mrs. Samuel puppies, up with pack all the way. Field 35."

"March 2 and March 9. Hounds not taken out. Snowed in!"

"March 16. Six inches of mud everywhere. Had an outstanding hunt. Whipped off after 1 hour and 38 minutes. Never more than 2 or 3 people able to stay with hounds, and then only by cutting corners. Pack 13 couples. Field 40."

The above notes describe only our regular Sunday meets. Hounds are worked during the week by the huntsman on cottontail rabbits.

David B. Sharp, Jr., M. B.

MIDDLEBURG BOWL

ed snow flurry descended from an overcast sky, increasing to such intensity that the spectators who lined the overlooking hillside could see nothing of the course. It was as though a ghostly curtain had been dropped over the entire proceedings. Only a hazy view could be had of the nearest fences.

As starter Louis C. Leith and his assistant, Huntsman Maddox, lined-up the sizable field, but two riders were present who had weighed in at 200 pounds, proving eligible for the heavyweight trophy. They were Capt. R. J. Kirkpatrick on Nemo, twice heavyweight winner at Warrenton and Mr. Paul Mellon on his hunter, Stormy Weather. Mr. Brown aboard Comedienne was in at 181 and giving away 6 pounds to many of the gentlemen who weighed in at the prescribed 175 pounds. The two ladies, asked to ride at 150, were Mrs. Robert Peel on Thomas Leiter's Sid and Miss Judy Johnson, well known trainer, on T. T. Mott's Leap Year. The balance of the field consisted, in addition to Clifton's Gem, Red Flower and Windsor Boy, of Mrs. M. E. Whitney's Sky Painter, Mr. Winston Frost up; Mrs. Whitney's Airy Spirit, Mr. Arnold Scruton; Frederick M. Warburg's Valor King, Mr. Danny Shea, Jr., Fletcher Harper's Selfish Gain, Mr. Robert B. Young; Oliver Filley's Mae Lad, Mr. Oliver Filley, Jr.; John E. Hughes' Field Glass, Mr. Mansfield Hughes; Mr. Ridgeley White Chambers' Waluka, owner up; Thomas Mott's Play Pal, Mr. Mott, Jr., up and the added starter, Arthur Miller's Danda, Mr. J. Newton Mayo.

A straightaway run of about 100 yards lay between the start and the first fence, a post-and-rail, and as they were sent away. Mrs. Peel dropped Sid back out of the scramble and it was Mr. Frost and Mr. Scruton aboard Mrs. Whitney's two contenders who led the way, with Sky Painter on top. Back of them, and jumping this first together as one, stride for stride, were Comedienne, Leap Year and Selfish Gain, with the others closely bunched behind. The snow was driving down in great swirling flakes and making it extremely difficult for the riders to follow the course and impossible for the onlookers to distinguish the field as they went away into the 2nd. This, a similar post-and-rail, lay at somewhat of an angle to the left of the 1st and Mr. Brown afterwards stated that he was amazed to see those in front of him swinging wide instead of taking the shortest route. Taking instant advantage of this lapse, he took the straightest possible line with Comedienne and gained some 5 lengths on the leaders. The mare was jumping strongly, as she did at Piedmont, and once over the 2nd fence, she had complete command and was away to the next post-and-rail with an ever-increasing lead.

The course was laid over much of the ground covered in the 1939 Middleburg Point-to-Point and followed a circular route, so that the riders were bearing always left. The 4th fence was a chicken-coop and here Mr. Brown, now well in the lead, had considerable difficulty in picking it out ahead of him, as the surface was completely white with snow and the flakes were driving in his eyes. He had to swerve to it, as he was too far to the right. Mr. Young on Selfish Gain, Mr. Mott on Play Pal, Mr. Frost on Sky Painter and Mr. Scruton on Airy Spirit were all striving to stay near the pace. It was at the 3rd fence that the first mishap took place, for Danda, who was carrying considerable lead and had no overgirth to keep the saddle in place, got into trouble so that the saddle turned and she and Mr. Mayo came to grief.

It was as they came over the 6th fence, a stone wall, that the spectators on the nearest hill had the next glimpse and here Comedienne was leading by 15 lengths easily, with Play Pal, Selfish Gain and Sky Painter nearest the pace. Over the 7th, a big, upstanding post-and-rail, Sky

Painter moved up and as they went away down hill to the 8th, a snake fence, Mr. Frost was 2nd. Sky Painter won the Middleburg Bowl in 1938, with Horace Moffett up and he was out for a repeat trial. Comedienne was not bothered by any challenges, however, and not at any time did anyone get within striking distance.

A coop, a stream and another snake fence had to be negotiated before they next came into view, swinging back to complete the circle at the 11th, a wall with a deep drop. It was over the wall, a steep pull up hill, a sharp left-hand turn to a post-and-rail into the field from whence they started, another right turn to the first fence again, now the 13th. Comedienne had never relinquished one jot of her lengthy advantage and Sky Painter was still running 2nd, followed now by his stablemate, Airy Spirit, who in turn preceded Selfish Gain, Windsor Boy, Play Pal, and the others, strung out behind. The snow was beginning to slacken a trifle, though it was still difficult to distinguish them as they went away into the second turn of the course.

Swinging around uphill over the 14th, 15th and 16th, Mr. Pfefferkorn began making his move early with Windsor Boy, and Mr. Brown, looking back over his shoulder, saw the young Marylander going to the bat in his efforts to close ground with the Rokeby winner. Again they swept into view over the stone wall, now the 18th fence, and it was clearly Comedienne's race, barring accidents, for most of those watching had seen her record-smashing performance the week before and she was in equal form. Suddenly, going to the 19th, the big post-and-rail, young Mr. Danny Shea, Jr., appeared to make his move with Valor King and the bay gelding was responding nicely on the flat, but made a blunder at the fence and turned over. As the others went by, though young Mr. Shea was on his feet in less time than it takes to tell, it seemed that Valor King would be out of the race entirely. It was the 16-year-old boy's first point-to-point and his father, watching from the hilltop, gave a cheer to see him up again and in the saddle and racing after the others, already making up ground before they disappeared from sight again.

The last burst down the hill and over the final wall told a different tale from that which was promised from many when last seen across the backstretch. Comedienne, still going strongly in front, made a big jump at the wall, grabbed a shoe and nearly bobbled in landing over the drop, but was up and over the final hill to the finish with Clifton's Gem about 20 lengths away. The gray bobbled badly at the wall a tough jump for a tired horse—and Mr. Hulbert had to sit about him to keep from being unloaded, as he recovered and galloped up the hill some lengths before Red Flower, who was followed by Windsor Boy, Field Glass, Valor King, with whom young Mr. Shea had done a good job, Mae Lad, Play Pal, Waluka, Sky Painter and finally, Stormy Weather, who was in time for the heavyweight award.

Back at the final fence there was trouble, for on the far side Nemo and Captain Kirkpatrick had come to grief in a ditch, with the Captain getting a broken collar bone and over the wall Mrs. Peel and Sid had come down in a smasher. Airy Spirit was over the wall, but completely done and Mr. Scruton dismounted without attempting to finish. Mr. Young pulled up Selfish Gain to lend assistance to the fallen Nemo, as did Miss Johnson on Leap Year. Mrs. Peel, however, was determined to get home and Sid was brought back, re-mounted and galloped up the hill to be the first and only lady to finish. Comedienne's time was 12: 13 2-5, and though the crowd had been slightly completely bewildered by the snowfall, which dispersed as quickly as it came, they nevertheless were aware that they had had occasional glimpses of another great performance of an inestimable mare.

Brady's Bold Stroke, the pace-making winner, also with 150 pounds, with J. Magee riding. Thomas Letter's Lew Park, known more fondly as "The Rockminster" in Warrenton Hunt circles, showed speed, with 143 pounds and H. Harris up, to finish 3rd. Lew Park, named for Mr. Lewis A. Park, is headed for timber efforts, possibly the Maryland, but quite definitely the Virginia Gold Cup. He carried E. Kenneth Jenkins in the hunting field for a season and

17 Hands Of War

March 9, 1941

Editor The Chronicle
Middleburg, Va.

Dear Sir:

The last time I saw you in Middleburg, I told you I had been asked to fly out to California to paint War, standing at Victor McLaglen's ranch. The portrait is to finish a set I have been painting over a period of years, for an Irish horse enthusiast who has an abounding interest in all of Man o'War's get. Among the horses I have painted are those two splendid 'chasers Battleship, after he won the "National" at Aintree, and Blockade, a great favorite of mine.

I arrived at the Ranch on a bright and shining morning, having motored out from Fresno, in the heart of the vast wine region of the San Joaquin Valley. We drove eleven miles, through acres of vineyards stretching always away to the high Sierras. Balfe Ranch itself has a varied history, full of adventure and color, a museum, containing hundreds of objects, of Spanish Conquest, Indian fighting and Gold Rush days, is one of Mr. McLaglen's favorite possessions.

Three years ago Mr. McLaglen bought Balfe Ranch. Immediately he put into bringing it to the point bordering on perfection that it is today the immense enthusiasm and vitality that all who saw him on the screen in "The Informer" know he possesses to a startling degree. Nine tenths of this is his deep-seated love for horses, their breeding and their rearing.

I grant, the gods had provided a sweeping valley of delight, hundreds of acres of green, undulating pastures, apricots, almonds, plums, all in full bloom when I arrived. Oranges glow among glossy leaves on all sides. Tall eucalyptus trees give point to the landscape and live oaks give shade to the stallion and broodmare stables. All this was to hand. Mr. McLaglen has added a dairy, an agricultural farm and the thoroughbred breeding stables, then, just to round out this thoroughly satisfactory sporting estate, he builds and stocks kennels, English Foxhounds. I saw several litters of pedigreed English puppies, bred at the ranch, coming on fast.

The first day I arrived at the ranch, I was met by Miss Bonnie Withers, Mr. McLaglen's secretary and, I should judge his right arm. Her friendliness and genuine knowledge of horses and hounds go a long way in smoothing the running of this very going concern. Soon Mr. McLaglen came along to the broodmare stables where we were. His greeting to me was, as we Irish say, "As grand and wide as the Gap of Dun-loe!" From then on things went with a bang.

When War was led out of his box into the shattering sunlight, "it caught a throb in me throat!" a living statue of bronze, seventeen hands of it, in top condition. I've never seen a prouder man than Victor McLaglen was at that moment, and rightly. His is a deep appreciation of a stallion's greatness. War by Man o'War—Milky Way, by *Star Shoot, most certainly does his sire proud.

A young stallion of true promise, *Bachelor's Gift is an outstanding horse of great beauty of conformation. A dark sepia bay, with lighter dapples and magnificent shoulders,

Weather Permitting Tops Beau Val Show For Haggin Perrys

Mrs. W. Haggin Perry's Weather Permitting, handsome 10-year-old bay son of The Clown, was pinned the ideal hunter of the annual neighborhood horse show at Mr. and Mrs. Perry's Beau Val farm on Saturday, March 22. Mrs. St. George Duke of New York City and Morton Govern, of Rye, N. Y., who did the judging, also awarded two blues to Mrs. Perry's Fadeless, gelded chestnut son of Broomstick-Sour Grass, placing him first in both the working hunters and the thoroughbred hunters.

The day's opening event, for hunters raised in Albemarle or adjoining counties, was won by Mrs. Cary Jackson's thoroughbred gelding John B. White. This 5-year-old Morven-bred chestnut son of The Clown—Raynham Rose was placed over Mrs. Robert H. Schlesinger's Joker and Alexander Rives' well known performer Hapblematic. The latter, a nicely-moving brown son of Hap-hazard—Emblematic, went on immediately afterwards to win the class for hunter hacks, over Miss Ann Phillips' bay gelding Short Hair and Mrs. Arthur Bryant's African Gold.

The class for handy hunters went to Grenadier Guard, a favorite mount to hounds of the Farmington Hunt master Mrs. J. P. Jones and a familiar figure to many show enthusiasts of Albemarle County. Miss Jamie Terrill's Step Along, chosen the ideal hunter at this same show last year, was awarded the blue in the class for hunters other than thoroughbred, in which case he was put over Weather Permitting among others.

In the closing event, for pairs of hunters, Miss Phillips' Short Hair and Mrs. A. M. Keith's beautifully conformationed bay mare Primavera turned in the winning performance, ridden by the Misses Sue Bolling and Ellie Wood Keith.

4 Times In 7 Years

The Paul Mellon's Rokeby Stables have had four Carolina Cup winners in 7 years, commencing in 1935 with the famed Drummore Lad* triumph. Drummore Lad* later returned across the Atlantic for an Aintree effort. Rokeby Stables' late Faction Fighter* scored in 1939 and 1940, each time with Mr. Sidney Watters, Jr., riding, and he rode Memory Lane II* to record the 4th Carolina Cup win last Saturday, making his 3rd successive winning ride in this event.

N. Y. Coverage

The New York Times and Herald Tribune do best justice to the coverage of hunt meetings, wherever the racing may be. Both papers assigned their top turf scribes to Carolina Cup coverage, with Bryan Field representing the Times and Murray Tynan the Tribune. They witnessed many performers who this season will be Belmont and Saratoga chasers. Murray has been in the Carolinas since the opening of the hunt-meeting season at Sandhills, while Bryan entrained from the mid-way, with Fred Parks, secretary of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Assn., and racing secretary of the Carolina Cup card.

Paper—Chasing

Worthington Bordley, of Baltimore, has ridden about the hunt meetings for a number of seasons, frequently getting a leg up on G. W. Stephens Jr.'s Bad Harvey. He fell with Monty R. in the Pennsylvania Hunt Cup at Whitmarsh last autumn. This sporting young gentleman rider is busy the week long in paper business with the Whitaker Paper Co., and yet is up in the early mornings for gallops with the Janon Fisher, Jr., string. Mr. Fisher has 5 timber horses this year and schooled them all last Saturday. Mr. Bordley was not present however, being in Camden, the rider of Mrs. Laurens M. Hamilton's Longitude.

Mr. Clark's Springdale

Four wins in 5 years is F. Ambrose Clark's record in The Springdale, 2 1-4 mile feature brush 'chase, the supporting feature to The Carolina Cup. His Birmingham scored in 1937; his Cadeau II* in 1938, and last year it was La Touche* (who like Cadeau II* was a French subscription 'chaser). Last Saturday it was Castletown*, declared to win, who bested Mr. Clark's other entry, Torturer.

Charley von Stade's 1st

F. Skiddy von Stade, head of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Assn., presided as Steward at the Carolina Cup Meeting, where Charley von Stade rode his first race. Louis E. Stoddard Jr., saddled Mrs. Stoddard Jr.'s Milano II* and put Charley up, for the one mile on the flat in the Camden Plate. Under a good ride, Milano II*, who has twice started at Aintree, in the Grand National, and who won the Monmouth County brush feature last fall, got home 4th, back of the very classy Bold Stroke, winner, owned by James Cox Brady.

Bostwick's Third

The Baron De Kalb is George H. "Pete" Bostwick's race at the Carolina Cup Meeting. For the third successive year he has had the winner of this closing 1 1-2 mile hurdle event of the 6-race-card. This year he waited until the last 1-2 mile, then made his move in a deliberate fashion on Mrs. Bostwick's Arms of War, a cracking 3-year-old son of Quatre Bras II*, to come from 5th to 1st by a length at the finish. His Masked Knight had won it in 1939 and 1940. Mr. Bostwick all but rode a double, when he was just beaten out by 1-2 a length, in a driving finish, in The Camden Plate, of 1 mile on the flat by J. C. Brady's Bold Stroke on Saturday last. He was on his King John II*, level at 150 pounds with Bold Stroke.

Farragut Paraded

Farragut, the Annapolis gelding, who created the new world's record for 3 miles at Callente's Mexico track, recently was paraded at Bay Meadows. He got a big hand. Then he proceeded to show that he can sprint and did 5-8's in 1:01—rather creditable for a 3-mile-champion and also 'chasing winner of the Gran Nacional.

Rommy, Winning Rogue

C. E. "Boots" Durnell turned Rommy, one-time stakes winner, to steeplechasing, and R. H. "Specs" Crawford took over the training. Rommy was considered "an incorrigible rogue" according to Callente's release records. In a recent effort Rommy bested Playdema in the Callente Corinthian, showing speed on the flat and over fences, and went to the front and stayed there for 2 miles. He is a Judge Hay gelding and responded to a drive in the final stages.

Longitude's Latitude

Mrs. Laurens M. Hamilton's Longitude made the running for the first mile of the Carolina Cup last Saturday, then cocking an eye at the stall in which he was saddled, near the 6th fence, (stewards had granted the concession of saddling in the stable as he's rather excitable in the paddock), he refused. Mr. Worthington Bordley was up and had been advised by Longitude's connections that he had a bold and true jumping mount. Longitude proved a rogue however, finally when attempting to run out again he fell at the 14th. Loose, he raced off the course, through state troopers, cars, spectators and the woods back of the paddock and pulled up sound directly in front of the stall in which he had been saddled, which stall he had never previously seen prior to 20 minutes before the race.

Trainer Suspended

Callente Stewards (Mexico) suspended R. Duffy indefinitely, for stimulating his Paul B., steeplechase winner there on Sunday March 9. "On receipt of the chemist's report that the sample of the saliva taken from Paul B., which won the 9th race on March 9, showed general alkaloid reaction, strongly positive, it is the opinion of the stewards the horse had been stimulated," both are "barred from further racing", according to word from Callente.

Nick's Telephone Line

Despite the fact that the Middleburg Bowl Point-to-Point Committee was made up of point-to-point riders the course as laid out for the running of the race last Saturday had a "hole" in it. T. Beatty Brown (eventual winner on his Commedienne) and others, in walking the course and considering the rules: "Keep all red flags to your left," found that 1-8 of a mile could be saved and one fence eliminated, still fulfilling the rules of racing. Whipper-in Nick Nichols, assistant clerk of the Scales, heard of the intentions of some of the riders. He consulted committee members on Saturday, then rushed to Aldrich Dudley, manager of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co., in Middleburg, and borrowed some 200 yards of telephone line. This was hurriedly strung up, with white cloth tied to it every few feet—and were the many riders surprised as they rode postward and saw the fence line they anticipated jumping, to save ground, wired off! In consequence the entire field went the prescribed course.

At Fort Reno, Okla.

Captain George M. Kaufmann, well known on Eastern show circuits for a number of seasons is "in the Army now", stationed out at Fort Reno, Okla., where are also George Strawbridge, Jr., well known gentleman rider of Coq Bruyere and Bungtown fame and John Pons of the Country Life Farm of Belair, Md. The horse show, the hunt racing and the thoroughbred breeding branches of sport are thus well represented in Oklahoma. Capt. Kaufmann's mare, he left behind him, up in New York, Dandora, (by Dan IV—Ganadore Girl), recently foaled a chestnut colt by Cherry King, the Sunstar—Maid of Kent sire, owned by David Sharp of the Philadelphia country.

Lancaster Expanding

H. Dorn Stewart of the Lancaster Horse Show, to be held on May 23-24, advises that this Pennsylvania show will be expanded and all the proceeds of the event are to be donated to local charities. This event will have 35 classes and over $1,000 in prize money, with 5 hunter and 5 jumper contests.

42 Named—5 Discovery

Forty-two of the country's best 3-year-old fillies have been named for the 18th running of the Pimlico Oaks, the first great test over a distance of ground in the national schedule of filly classics. Crispin Oglebay's great Equipolse daughter, Level Best, voted the outstanding 2-year-old filly in 1940, heads the list. Discovery, standing at Alfred

Gwynne Vanderbilt's Sagamore Farm, near Glyndon, Md., has 5 of his daughters slated to go postward. Continued on Page Twenty

Grey Doll Returns To Winning Form At Tropical Park

Daughter Of Crack Brigade Runs Two Miles To New Mark In Surprise Victory

Gaining entree to the winner's circle for the first time in two years of racing, G. B. McCreary's Grey Doll, 6-year-old daughter of the Maryland sire Crack Brigade, made her rather unexpected triumph at Tropical Park last Saturday a notable one when she romped two miles and seventy yards in the excellent time of 3.33 1-5, thereby shaving one full second off the track record for the distance, established early in January by Eudymion, and coming within 2-5 seconds of the world's record at the same time. The race, which was under claiming conditions and was the 7th offering on the day's card, was but the second of such distance affairs run at the Gables track.

Grey Doll, who has hitherto been unsuccessful in all eleven of her previous starts over shorter distance this year, was burdened lightly under 100 pounds and led much of the way, winning cleverly by nearly two lengths and paying her backers $16.10 for a $2.00 ticket. In no other performance of her entire career has Grey Doll displayed any gift for speed and it was little guessed that she would so completely turn the tables on the favored Weary Flower, who had soundly beaten her at Hialeah on the first of the month at a mile and 3-4. The record of Grey Doll's past shows that she did not race as a 2-year-old, but broke her maiden at 3, in her 12th start, her one triumph that year. At 4, she won four of her 28 outings and was but 9 times elsewhere in the money, while at 5, she started 9 times and had no success whatever, hence the surprise at her record-smashing distance ability shown last week.

The following list contains all winners by Eastern Sires which have scored during the past seven days, from Wednesday, March 26, through Tuesday, April 1, 1941.
